NOTICE

Readers of the EVENING GAZETTE, going out of town for the summer, can have the paper mailed to them any point on the Pacific Coast for 50 cents per month, postage free.

A Surprise to Free Traders.

The New York World, a Democratic organ, has been studying up the wool industry in Great Britain, and informs us that "England, with free wool, employs 282,255 persons in factories and exports $100,000,000 worth of woolen goods besides almost entirely supplying her home demand."

The Chicago Journal, an American newspaper, has been looking up the statistics of this country and replies, "And the United States with protected wool manufactured in 1880 over $600,000,000 in value of woolen goods, employing 362,000 hands and consumed almost the entire product at home."

This will be a great surprise to the free trade doctrinaires, says the Oakland Times. They had supposed that England could supply the world with woolen goods from her annual surplus, and that we were being ruined because we could not buy that surplus of her and had to resort to dear American sheep and shut up our woolen manufactures and then go in and bid for a chance at England's little old $100,000,000 surplus and see how prices would rise on us. Mr. Cleveland thinks that the Americans can buy their wool abroad much cheaper than they can raise it themselves, you know. If they had to do it one year they would get pretty sick.

The Chicago Inter-Ocean, noting the fact that with the Greenback candidate there will be nine Presidential aspirants in the field, discovers that there are just enough to make a full team at the national game of baseball. With the Vice-Presidents there would be enough to furnish both sides in a match. Then it suggests that since nearly all will be out of a job after November, a brilliant series of ball contests could be arranged, and the proceeds devoted to paying the national debt. It would make Cleveland short-stop and Belva Lockwood catcher, provided aprons are not debarred. Its fear of a libel suit probably prevented the paper from naming the three base-men.

Poor old Thurman tried to address a mass meeting of Democrats in New York the other evening and physical infirmities compelled him to relinquish the effort. The exertion was so great that his enfeebled frame could not stand the strain and he was carried prostrate and fainting from the platform. The old Roman is not long for this world, and it is a shame that he should be compelled to be in his declining years an incentive for Democratic enthusiasm to offset the blundering stupidity of a younger, healthier, more ambitious man.

The President's contributions to his country, outside the $18 personal tax which he evaded by canceling his citizenship at Buffalo while Governor, have been as follows: For a substitute when he was drafted in the war, $300; for the relief of the sufferers in the Charleston earthquake, $20; to help re-elect himself a second term, $10,000; total, $10,520. After all few men have paid out more money to the people. He isn't so close as he has been painted.

GERMANY exacts her tariff duties with merciless precision. It is stated as an actual fact that in the case of a peasant who built his house in Germany, and his barn in Holland, and whose fields lie half in Holland, half in Germany, that he is arrested every time he brings any part of his crop from his barn to his house.

Mr. Cleveland's substitute in 1889 will be General Benjamin Harrison.

HARRISON'S LETTER.

A Broad and Comprehensive Discussion of the Views on Silver and the Chinese Question.

Following is a synopsis of Harrison's letter accepting the Republican Presidential nomination:

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 11.—Hon. M. M. Estee and others of the Committee.—GENTLEMEN: When your committee visited me on the Fourth of July last and presented the official announcement of my nomination for the Presidency of the United States by the Republican National Convention, I promised, as soon as practicable, to communicate to you my acceptance of the nomination. * * * I appreciate very highly the confidence and respect manifested by the Convention and accept the nomination with a feeling of gratitude and a full sense of the responsibilities which accompany it. It is a matter of congratulation that the declarations of the Chicago Convention upon the questions that now attract the interest of our people are so clear and emphatic. There is further cause of congratulation in the fact that the convention utterances of the Democratic party, in any degree uncertain and contradictory, can now be judged and interpreted by executive acts and messages, and by definite propositions in legislation.

This is especially true of what is popularly known as the tariff question. This issue cannot now be observed. It is not a contest between schedules, but between wide-spread principles. Foreign competitors of our markets have with quick instinct seen how one issue of this contest may bring them advantage, and our own people are not so dull as to miss or neglect the grave interests that are involved for them. The assault upon our protective system is open and defiant. Protection is assailed as unconstitutional in law, or as void of principles, and those who hold such views sincerely cannot stop short of an absolute elimination from our tariff laws of the principles of protection. The Mills bill is only a step, and it is toward an object that the leaders of Democratic thought and legislation have clearly in mind. The important question is not so much the length of the step as the direction of it. Judged by the Executive message of December last, by the Mills bill, by the debates in Congress and by the St. Louis platform, the Democratic party will, if supported by the country, place the tariff laws upon a purely revenue basis. Is this not practical free trade in the English sense? The legend upon the banner may not be free trade, it may be the more obscure motto, "tariff reform," but neither the banner nor the inscription is conclusive or indeed very important.

We believe it to be one of the worthy objects of tariff legislation to preserve American markets for American producers and to maintain an American standard of wages by equitable discrimination against foreign competing products. The effect of lower rates and larger importations upon the public revenue is contingent and doubtful, but not so the effect upon American productions and American wages. Low work and lower wages must be accepted as the inevitable result of the increased offering of foreign goods in our markets. By way of recompense for this reduction in his wages and loss to the American market, it is suggested that the workingman will have an undiminished purchasing power, and that he will be able to make up for the loss of the home market by the benefits he will enjoy from an enlarged foreign market.

Our workingmen have the settlement of this question in their own hands. They now obtain higher wages and live more comfortably than those of any other country. They will make the choice between the substantial advantages they have in hand and the defective promises and forecasts of those theorizing reformers. They will decide for themselves and for the country whether our protective system shall be continued or destroyed.

We are not likely to be called upon, I think, to make at present a choice between the surrender of our protective system and the entire repeal of internal revenue taxes. Such a contingency, in view of the present relation of expenditures to revenues, is remote. The surplus in the Treasury should be used in the purchase of bonds. The law authorizes this use of it, and if it is not needed for current or deficiency appropriations, the people, and not the banks in which it has been deposited, should have the advantage of its use by stopping interest upon the public debt. At least, those who needlessly hoard it should not be allowed to use the fear of a monetary stringency thus produced to coerce public sentiment.

The objections to Chinese immigration are distinct and conclusive, and are now so generally accepted as such that the question has passed entirely around the stage of argument. The laws relating to this subject would, if I should be charged with their enforcement, be faithfully executed. Such amendments or further legislation as may be necessary and proper to prevent evasion of the laws and to stop further Chinese immigration would also meet my approval. The experience of the convention upon this subject is in entire harmony with my views. Our civil compact is a Government by the majority, and law loses its sanction and the Chief Magistrate our respect when this compact is broken.

Our relations with foreign powers should be characterized by friendliness and respect. The right of our people and our ships to hospitable treatment should be insisted upon with dignity and firmness. Our nation is too great, both in material strength and in moral power, to indulge in bluster or to be suspected of timorousness. Vacillation and inconstancy are as incompatible with successful diplomacy as they are with the national dignity.

We should especially cultivate and extend our diplomatic and commercial relations with the Central and South American States. Our fisheries should be fostered and protected. The hardships and risks that are the necessary incidents of the business should not be increased by an inhospitable exclusion from near-lying ports. The resources of a firm, dignified and consistent diplomacy are alone equal to the prompt and peaceful solution of the difficulties that now exist. Our neighbors will surely not expect in our ports commercial hospitality they deny to us in theirs.

I cannot extend this letter by special reference to other subjects upon which the convention gave expression. In respect to them, as well as to the above, I have noticed that I am in entire agreement with the declarations of the convention. The resolutions relating to the coinage of silver, to the rebuilding of the navy, to coast defenses and to the public lands express conclusions to all of which I gave my support in the Senate.

Laying a calm and thoughtful consideration of these public questions we submit them to the people. Their intelligent patriotism and the good Providence that made and kept us a nation will lead them to wise and safe conclusions.

Very respectfully, your obedient servant,
BENJAMIN HARRISON.

PRACTICE VS. THEORY.

How Free Trade is Dying Out in the Australian Colonies.

NEW YORK, September 11.—An ex-United States Consul, formerly at Sydney, is at the Fifth-avenue Hotel. He says he had excellent opportunities during his stay in Australia to see the different effects there of protection and free trade. Victoria, whose chief city is Melbourne, with 400,000 inhabitants, adopted the protective tariff principle years ago, and is prospering in manufactures and trade. New Zealand and Queensland have followed her example and are rapidly growing in wealth from the same cause. New South Wales still adheres to free trade, to her manifest detriment, but will not remain much longer in that condition. She sees her mistake, and within the coming year will turn her back upon British theories and adopt the American plan of protection.

Accounting for Cleveland's Figures

WASHINGTON, September 11.—Heavy purchases of United States bonds last week caused the market to decline. In the Treasury the surplus fell from $110,000,000 last Monday to $108,950,000, as stated in the Treasurer's statement of today. The discrepancy between this amount and the surplus as stated in the President's letter of acceptance, $130,000,000, is probably due to the fact that the President included about $25,000,000 of fractional silver coin on hand as part of the surplus, while the Treasury officials do not.

The Lowell Murderers.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 11.—Harry Meyers, who was convicted with John Olsen and William Drager of the murder of John Lowell, claims that he did the killing, and that the others knew nothing of his intentions until he fired the fatal shot. Heretofore he has claimed that Olsen shot Lowell with a pistol, and that Drager knocked him in the head with a sledge hammer. It looks as though Olsen had told a straight story from the first.

Young Priests for California.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Thirteen newly ordained priests arrived from Dublin this morning on the City of Richmond. All are young, and, with one or two exceptions, over six feet tall. Four are destined for Sacramento, three for Dubuque, two for Chicago, two for San Francisco and two for Brooklyn.

To Pay for Dead Chinamen.

WASHINGTON, September 11.—Senator Morgan to-day introduced a bill appropriating $276,619 to the Chinese Government as full indemnity for losses and injuries sustained at the hands of lawless men in remote Western regions.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEVITIES.

Floods in the south of Spain have caused the loss of many lives and done enormous damage to property.

Melarky, who murdered Geo. Dougherty in North Bloomfield on July 11th, has been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Governor Waterman of California says he would not commute Golden's sentence if all the people of California begged it on their knees.

An Imperial decree has been issued, ordering the Austrian army to be increased by fifteen new batteries of Artillery and four new companies of Bosnian Infantry.

It is reported that a company of French and Russian capitalists have formed an organization to construct a canal from the Caspian to the Black Sea. The estimated cost is 40,000,000 rubles.

Men and Women's Bones, Joints and muscles may escape the agonizing tortures of rheumatism if they will but "take time by the forelock," and annihilate the symptoms of oncoming trouble with the benignant and highly sanctified blood purifier and alterative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. Poisons mostly constitute the ordinary means of battling with atrocious rheumatism. Avoid the risk of using these by relying to the safe as well as effectual anti-pyretic and preventive. After exposure to damp, through drafts and other causes which encourage a rheumatic tendency, a winged shaft of the Bitters prevents ill effects. No sure preventive of material ailments like fever, ague, biliousness, indigestion, dumb ague and ague cake exists, and it is, besides, a most genial recuperator of strength exhausted by excessive mental or physical effort. Miners, mariners, operatives and others whose avocations involve laborious work in rough weather out of doors, or close application indoors, find it invaluable.

Fryer's Abolition Ointment—A combination of the Gm. Abolition, Vaseline and other therapeutic agents. The best healing and purifying remedy in the world for Piles, Old Sores, Eruptions and all eruptions of the skin. Price 25 cents. Sold by Wm. Pfisterer. All genuine Abolition preparations bear the facsimile signature of D. F. Fryer.

POLITICAL POINTS.

Free love means no love and Free Trade means no trade.—Governor Foraker.

An agent traveling in the Adirondacks sold in two weeks 339 photographs of Harrison and Morton, and only 19 of Cleveland and Thurman.

The Canadians are getting over their nervousness about the President's "bluff" messages and their enthusiasm for the Free-trade candidate is reviving.

Mr. Gratz of St. Louis, the originator of the Cotton-bagging Trust, a thorough Free Trader, declares that the trust is the offspring of the Mills bill.

A club of Bohemian Democrats, with sixty members, employed at the rolling mills, Cincinnati, have resolved to support Harrison and Protection.

Before the "war tariff" skilled laborers were paid $1.25 a day, about what they get in England now. The same work now brings from $2.50 to $3 a day. Workmen can verify this by men of their own trade who worked in this country before 1860.

"The Merry Maiden and the Tar." She was merrier before she "struck" the tar. Her spirits sank as she beheld her new white gown blackened by the tar. This tar helped a wagon run instead of helping a man. Just so a thousand trivial accidents and neglected "small things" take the merriment out of the lives of young girls and maidens. Particularly in this case with diseases peculiar to their sex which take so much enjoyment and happiness from life. However, a remedy is found in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for all female "weaknesses" or irregularities, nervousness, neuralgia, and uterine troubles. Ask your druggist. Dr. Pierce's Pellets, or Anti-bilious Granules, have no equals. 25 cents a vial; one a dose. Cure headache, constipation and indigestion.

Ayer's Ague Cure acts directly on the liver and biliary apparatus, and drives out the malarial poison which induces liver complaints and bilious disorders. Warranted to cure or money refunded. Try it.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.

Frank Harper, the well-known musician, is in Elko. He has a head in Jordan valley, Oregon. There are fifty-two teams engaged in hauling freight from Elko to Tuscarora. The White Pine News has been moved from Taylor to Ely, the county seat.

There is not an empty house in Elko, even the old unused shanties being occupied.

Fred Danberg, the Carson valley rancher, was drinking Wieland beer in Reno last night. The Central Pacific Crawler, due here this morning at 7:15 A. M., arrived at 3:30 P. M.

Alturas, Cal., is overrun with toughs, and the New Era calls upon the authorities to suppress them.

Mrs. William Goe of Virginia City was in Reno yesterday visiting her son John, who is a student at the State University.

There are seventy-six widows in Ormsby county and their combined wealth estimated at $44,400, which is exempt from taxation.

The valleys of Southern Oregon are said to be overrun with eastern cattle buyers, and in consequence beef cattle are bringing good figures.

The new boiler for the Reno Electric Light Company arrived today and an endeavor will be made to have it ready for business in time for Fair week.

All of the lumber mills at Truckee are receiving large orders for snow-shed timber. It will be impossible to rebuild all the burned sheds this fall.

Dr. W. Robe, who was dropped at the Storey County Hospital in 1877, died at Maxwell, Colusa county, Cal., last Thursday and was buried Saturday.

During the month of August the thermometer never went below the 90 mark in Elko. It ranged from that to 102, most of the time around the 98 mark.

The Board of County Commissioners will convene in Reno as a Board of Equalization on the 17th, instant and continue in session till the business is disposed of.

At Riverville, Lincoln county, in the southeastern part of this State, during August the mean temperature was 107 degrees in the shade, running as high as 119 degrees.

J. D. McLeod, who in 1886 was convicted of cattle stealing in the Superior Court of Modoc county, Cal., has returned to Alturas, having served his term of two years.

Constable Upon last night arrested two young Comstockers who were fleeing from the parental roof in search of adventure, and sent them home on the V. & T. local today.

Decrees of divorce have been granted in the District Court of Humboldt county to Libbia H. Hammond from S. W. Hammond and to Alice E. Keyser from C. L. Keyser.

The Republicans of Modoc county, Cal., have nominated James W. Poor, of the firm of Ayres & Poor for County Clerk. The Republicans of Modoc could not have made a better selection.

In the assessment roll of Washoe county, published in this morning's Journal, the amount John Sunderland was assessed for was stated to be $7,700, whereas it should have been $16,500.

The stated terms of holding Court in Humboldt county will hereafter be held on the second Monday in January, first Monday in June and second Monday in September, by order of Judge A. L. Fitzgerald.

W. B. Todhunter has sold 5,000 head more or less of beef cattle to Miller & Lux of California. The first lot of these cattle has been driven to Winnemucca to be weighed and shipped to California.

The attention of the District Court was occupied today in the trial of the case of S. C. Fogus against the Reno Electric Light Company, a suit for injunction and damages, the defendant, as alleged, having constructed a dam in the river which backs up the water to the injury of the plaintiff.

An exchange says: The country editors generally are their worst enemies; they are the pack-horses of the public, without even a thank you; their generosity receives the kicks and cuffs of the public instead of its blessings. They have one comfort, however, and that is, they will leave no estate for sharks to gobble up after they have passed to the "beautiful beyond." The Lord will give them a rest and in the big church not made with hands, and will order their delinquents on the bleaching boards that skirt the great pavilion.

The So Id Men of Elko.
The Central Pacific Railroad Company pays taxes on $1,937,050 worth of property in Elko county. Sparks & Tinnia are assessed at $195,200, Murphy & Co. at $194,040, Pedro Alube at $80,300, Russell & Bradley at $82,875, Mason & Bradley at $75,000, the Nevada Land & Cattle Co., at $69,310, and Geo. W. Pelletier & Co., at $57,600. There are quite a number of other persons and firms which are assessed at from $20,000 to $50,000.

Make No Mistake.
By dispelling the symptoms so often mistaken for consumption, Santa Abie has brought gladness to many a household. By its prompt use for breaking up the cold that too often develops into that fatal disease, thousands can be saved from an untimely grave. You make no mistake by keeping a bottle of this pleasant remedy in your home. California Cat-N-Cure is equally effective in eradicating all traces of Nasal Catarrh. Both of these wonderful California remedies are sold and warranted by Osburn & Shoemaker at 14 a package, three for $2.50.

We know of no mode of treatment which offers to sufferers from chronic diseases a more certain hope of cure than that which is comprehended in the use of Fryer's Balsam. All genuine preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer.

WHAT THE STATE NEEDS.

A Legislative Representation Which shall Work for the General Good Demanded.

What the State needs is good legislation, and never in its history was it more needed than now, and to accomplish the desired end the people must join together and refuse to elect anyone to the Upper or Lower House who is not known to be thoroughly competent. As before remarked in these columns, says the Carson Tribune, there is no United States Senator to be elected and so all the time of the lawmakers can be occupied in the enactment of such laws as shall tend to the future prosperity of the State, for much, very much, has to be done, and if left undone by the next legislators "anathema marantha" should be their reward.

It is all very well to say that anyone who can read and write in the language of the country will do for a legislator, but such is not the opinion of the majority of the taxpayers of the State, for they demand a representation that shall operate for the general good, and the motto of all County Conventions should be: We have hold-over Senators who can be trusted, and let it be seen to that no but trust-worthy, independent and capable gentlemen are elected to fill the vacant chairs in the Upper House. It is the duty of every newspaper in the State to keep this subject matter constantly before the voters, and should an incompetent or venal person be elected, a legislative nomination let him be beaten in Convention.

COFFIN-PULLMAN.

Ed. Coffin and Miss Ida Pullman Will Make the Journey of Life Together.

Last evening at the Episcopal Church Edward Coffin, one of Reno's most promising and deserving young business men, and Miss Ida Pullman, formerly of Eureka, were married, Rev. William Lucas officiating, in the presence of a large number of friends. The church had been beautifully decorated with the rarest of Flora's gifts, the leading feature being a superb wedding bell which was suspended over the altar. At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple received the congratulations of relatives and friends, and then repaired to the residence of the groom's parents on Fourth street, where an elaborate wedding feast was partaken of. Later in the evening the young couple, under the leadership of Walter Hastings, tendered the young couple a serene.

"Kathleen Mavourneen."
The ladies and gentlemen preparing the above named play are engaged in active rehearsals every night, and through the excellent drill of Mr. D. E. Fultz, who gives minute attention to every character, they are assured of giving a correct portrayal of this romantic drama. It involves a great deal of hard work on the part of the players, but they are all desirous of contributing their best efforts in aid of the benefit to the Trinity Church Guild Society and hence do their tasks cheerfully. In fact they literally face death in the performance of their duty, for four murders occur in the third act, and the scene is worked up in a most thrilling manner. An excellent orchestra has been engaged for the occasion and Irish songs and melodies by sweet singers will add to the attractions. A full house is now assured, and the cause deserves it.

State Fair Employees.
The Executive Committee of the State Board of Agriculture held a meeting yesterday afternoon and appointed the following employees:

Marshal, S. J. Bryant; Gatekeeper, track, R. V. Borden; Assistant gatekeeper, track, S. Durmo; Exit Gate, W. Baugh; Quarter Stretch Gate, A. L. Linn; Fly Gate, Charles Stober; Chief of Police, John Barrett; Patrolmen, Dick Arrowsmith, E. Robbins, John McHugh; Clerk Judges Stand, B. F. Tompkins; Entry Clerk, C. J. Campbell; Entry Clerk, pavilion, C. A. Norcross; Ticket Agent, Eva Read; Doorkeeper, J. E. Phillips; Night Watchman, A. Wilson; Day Roustabout, John Murphy.

A Terror to Evil-doers.
The Elko Free Press says: The Reno Republicans did the handsome thing in renominating Judge W. H. Young as Justice of the Peace for Reno Township. He is a terror to evil-doers, and manages to keep town free from tramps. He is very popular with the people and will undoubtedly be elected by a good majority.

Of Interest to Union Soldiers.
Pension Commissioner J. C. Black has requested each post of the Grand Army of the Republic to forward to the Pension Office a list of its members and others who were at any time prisoners of war. The reason for this is not given, but it is believed to be for the purpose of perfecting the war records.

New Furniture.
J. A. Ziegler, the furniture man, has just received a large stock of furniture, consisting of parlor suites, bed room sets, bed lounges, easy chairs, wall brackets, etc., which he proposes to sell at bedrock prices. He extends an invitation to all to call and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

Their Business Booming.
Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at Hodgkinson's drug store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

Pneumonia can be quickly and permanently cured by adding the powder to be found with each bottle of Fryer's true Abietene Cough Balsam. (They contain no opium.) Price 75 cents. Sold by Wm. Frazier. All genuine preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer.

MEADOW LAKE.

The Revival of the Famous Mining District.

The Nevada City (Cal.) Transcript says there are now in Meadow Lake district between 125 and 150 men, all of them being experienced and sturdy practical miners, most of them having the additional advantage of being young and consequently full of enthusiasm and energy. They all feel confident that mining operations there are to be attended with the greatest success from now on, owing to the newly discovered method of extracting the gold from the ore which have heretofore been considered rebellious.

The buildings erected at Summit City in 1866, when the town sprung up one summer and was abandoned suddenly when the first snowstorm came and buried it out of sight, have since passed entirely out of existence. The ruins of a few of them are there yet to tell the story of faded glory. Now new buildings—principally of the cabin order—are springing up here and there, and in two or three of them are such evidences of civilization as housewives and children; but most of the miners are keeping "bachelor's hall," such of them as boast of families having left the latter in older and more comfortable settlements and intend to send for them when the head of the household strikes it rich.

There are already three or five saloons on or near the town site, and a store is to be started there this fall for the sale of such supplies as a thrifty mining camp requires.

The County Assessor has not for six years at least even visited that section in his official visits, but by next summer there will doubtless be start enough made in opening the mines to make it worth his while to include it in the assessable property list.

SPECIAL ORDER NO. 4.

Rules Governing Target Practice by the State Militia.

The Acting Adjutant-General has issued the following special order (No. 4.), which relates to the target practice of the First Brigade which will take place at the State Fair Grounds on September 19, 1888:

I. Commanders of companies, with their shooting teams, will report to the Range Officer at the range immediately after the review.

II. Teams will be composed of twenty men from each company, the members thereof to be bona fide members of their respective companies, and were such on the first of September, 1888.

III. Teams to shoot with Springfield rifle, six pound pull of trigger, distance 200 yards, five shots per man, and no sighting shots allowed, competitors to shoot in full dress or fatigue uniform, rules of the National Rifle Association to govern. Each company will furnish their own marking discs, pasters and trigger weights, to each team to have two targets, in order to take as little time as possible for the shooting. Each company will furnish markers. Commissioned officers detailed will act as scorekeepers, and two non-commissioned officers will assist at the targets. Ammunition will be issued to the Brigade Commander to be used in the practice, and any rifle other than the Springfield, and any other ammunition but that issued, will not be allowed. Any score made otherwise than with the above conditions will not be counted.

IV. Prizes for teams shooting will be awarded as follows: To the team making the highest aggregate score, $60 and the Sarsfield gold medal, now held by Company F; to the team making the second highest score, $40; to the third, $25; to the fourth, $15, and to the fifth, $10.

V. The Brigade commander will have the necessary number of targets placed in position, with distance staked off, and all necessary arrangements made on the eighteenth day of September, so there may be no delay in the firing.

By order of the Commander-in-Chief. C. H. GALBRAITH, Acting Adjutant-General.

Flyers from Carson.
John Sweeney, Carson's well-known turman, arrived today with his string of fleet-footed racers, on which the average Capitolian invariably places his last cent whenever the opportunity offers. The animals are well known in turf circles, and comprise the following: Pat Cassidy, a three-year-old Gibraltar trotter; Dick Kelly, a three-year-old Gibraltar pacer, Hattie S., a trotter which won three races at the last State Fair, Sam Lewis, the celebrated pacer, Starlight, a four-year-old Norfolk runner, Gibber, a two-year-old trotter with a record of 2:24 on the Carson track. Lookout, a phenomenal runner, William P., a trotter whose sire has given the turf a long list of fleet-footed progeny, and three colts. Nearly all the horses mentioned are entered for the races during Fair week, and their owner confidently expects to meet them divide honors with the visiting horsemen.

The Louisiana Lottery Drawing.
Following are the winning numbers of the principal prizes in the Louisiana lottery drawing yesterday: No. 97, 429 wins $300,000; No. 21,025, $100,000; No. 1,587, $25,000; Nos. 64,617 and 62,315 each win $10,000; Nos. 68,481, 164, 38,225, 44,641 and 55,808 each win $5,000. The number winning the $50,000 prize is not given.

For First Place.
A great amount of political engineering will be done by friends of candidates to secure for their man the first place on the ticket, and the best man will probably secure the coveted place. Then, if endorsed by the majority of the people, the election is assured. Electric Bitters has been put to the front, its merits passed upon, has been endorsed, and unanimously given the first place among remedies peculiarly adapted to the relief and cure of all diseases of the kidneys, liver and stomach. Electric Bitters, being guaranteed, is a safe investment. Price 50 cents and $1 per bottle at Hodgkinson's drug store.

Fryer's Abietene Cough Balsam—A combination of the Gum Abietene, Verbena, Sage, and Mullein, is guaranteed to cure Coughs, Colds and all lung diseases. (It contains no opium.) Price 75 cents. Sold by Wm. Frazier. All genuine Abietene preparations bear the fac-simile signature of D. F. Fryer.

WHAT IS STEAM?

A Little Lesson in Science.

When water once begins to boil it is impossible to raise its temperature any higher; all excess of heat is absorbed by the escaping, as so called, latent heat, and is given out again when it condenses.

We often speak of seeing the steam escaping from the mouth of a kettle, but this is incorrect—steam is an invisible vapor, and we can see no more of it than we can air. What we do see are the minute drops of water into which the steam condenses on coming into the cool air.

If we boil water in a glass flask, we shall notice that nothing can be seen in the interior, and by observing the steam escaping from a kettle we shall notice that there is quite a distance between the end of the spout and the point where the cloud becomes visible.

This cloud of steam is of exactly the same nature as the clouds which float in the sky, and which are formed by the condensation in cool upper regions of aqueous vapor in the air.

Not These Eminent Persons.

The two men had occupied the same seat in a railway coach for half a day and the train had reached its destination.

"I am indebted to you, sir, for an agreeable conversation that has relieved greatly the monotony of a long journey. May I ask your name?"

"Certainly. My name is Sullivan."

"(Jocosely.) "Not Mr. Sullivan of Boston?"

"Yes, I reside in Boston."

"What! Not—"

"(Haughtily.) "No, sir! I am a college professor."

"(Smilingly.) "Not Mr. Crowley of New York?"

"Yes, New York is my home."

"What! Not—"

Advice to Clergymen.

Clergymen should be brief and to the point. A Boston clergyman once had a broad hint to that effect.

"We would like to have you short when you marry us," said a prospective bridegroom, "because we are going West."

"I'll soon after the ceremony will you start?" asked the clergyman.

"In about a week," was the reply.

"Then the minister realized he had a reputation as one possessing the gift of verbiage.—Harper's Magazine.

TEMPERANCE IN EATING.

The Vice and Mischief of Gluttony.

The vice of inordinate liquor-drinking is open and above-board, and its evils are so palpable that anyone may see them. Over-eating, on the other hand, is accompanied by evils that none but the sufferers and their physicians know much about.

Some years ago no less an authority than Sir Henry Thomson declared that he had been compelled by the facts constantly coming before him to accept the conclusion that more mischief in the form of actual disease, of impaired vigor, and of shortened life, has occurred to civilized men from erroneous habits in eating than from the habitual use of alcoholic drink, considerable as he knew that evil to be. He also declared himself in doubt whether improper and inordinate eating were not at great a moral evil as inordinate drinking.

The fabricators of our food have much, indeed, to answer for. They make digestible raw material into indigestible finished products, and we eat them and suffer. But the cooks are not alone to blame.

People eat more than they should, and they eat what is agreeable to their palates, knowing that it will not be relished by their stomachs. The habit of over-eating is commonly made in childhood, when ignorance and sensation override moderation of appetite and reasonable caution; the child should be restricted to the food that it actually needs, and should not be allowed to make a hog of itself.

When the growth is attained, and the system no longer easily eliminates the waste material not necessary for the ordinary purposes of repair, then the body begins to score up fat beyond what is of use, and fags out the muscles in carrying it around; or, if there is no fattening with over-eating, there are dyspepsia, fevers, gout, rheumatism, biliousness and other ills.

A temperance organization which should lay down as its fundamental law abstinence from excessive eating, would do away with the greater part of the ordinary sicknesses among persons who should live up to the law.

HOW THREAD IS NUMBERED.

What Changes Have Been Introduced with the Sewing Machine.

Everybody knows the sizes of thread. Every seamstress knows whether she wants No. 30 or 60 or 120, and knows, when she hears the number, about what is the size of the strand referred to; but how the numbers happen to be what they are, and just what they mean, not one person in a thousand knows.

And yet it is a simple matter to explain, was the information accorded to a reporter by an employee of one of the largest spool cotton manufacturing in the United States.

When 840 yards of yarn weigh 7.000 grains, a pound of cotton, the yarn is No. 1. If 1680 yards weigh a pound, it will be No. 2 yarn. For No. 50 yarn it would take 50 multiplied by 840 yards to weigh a pound. This is the whole of the yarn measurement.

The early manufactured thread was three-cord, and the thread took its number from the number of the yarn from which it was made. No. 60 yarn made No. 60 thread, though in point of fact the actual calibre of No. 60 thread would equal No. 30 yarn, being three 60 strands.

When the sewing machine came into the market as the great consumer, unreasoning in its work and inexorable in its demands for mechanical accuracy, six-cord cotton had to be made as a smoother product.

As thread numbers were already established, they were not altered for the new article, and No. 60 six-cord and No. 60 three-cord are identical in size as well as in number. To effect this the six-cord has to be made of yarn twice as firm as that demanded by the three-cord.

The No. 60 six-cord would be six strands of No. 120 yarn. Three-cord spool cotton is the same number as the yarn it is made of. Six-cord spool cotton is made of yarn that is double its number.

As simple a thing as thread is there are 8,000 different kinds made.—New York Mail and Express.

WHAT IS STEAM?

A Little Lesson in Science.

When water once begins to boil it is impossible to raise its temperature any higher; all excess of heat is absorbed by the escaping, as so called, latent heat, and is given out again when it condenses.

We often speak of seeing the steam escaping from the mouth of a kettle, but this is incorrect—steam is an invisible vapor, and we can see no more of it than we can air. What we do see are the minute drops of water into which the steam condenses on coming into the cool air.

If we boil water in a glass flask, we shall notice that nothing can be seen in the interior, and by observing the steam escaping from a kettle we shall notice that there is quite a distance between the end of the spout and the point where the cloud becomes visible.

This cloud of steam is of exactly the same nature as the clouds which float in the sky, and which are formed by the condensation in cool upper regions of aqueous vapor in the air.

Not These Eminent Persons.

The two men had occupied the same seat in a railway coach for half a day and the train had reached its destination.

"I am indebted to you, sir, for an agreeable conversation that has relieved greatly the monotony of a long journey. May I ask your name?"

"Certainly. My name is Sullivan."

"(Jocosely.) "Not Mr. Sullivan of Boston?"

"Yes, I reside in Boston."

"What! Not—"

"(Haughtily.) "No, sir! I am a college professor."

"(Smilingly.) "Not Mr. Crowley of New York?"

"Yes, New York is my home."

"What! Not—"

"(Coldly.) "Good-day, sir!"

"(Frigidly.) "Good-day!"—Chicago Tribune.

Advice to Clergymen.

Clergymen should be brief and to the point. A Boston clergyman once had a broad hint to that effect.

"We would like to have you short when you marry us," said a prospective bridegroom, "because we are going West."

"I'll soon after the ceremony will you start?" asked the clergyman.

"In about a week," was the reply.

"Then the minister realized he had a reputation as one possessing the gift of verbiage.—Harper's Magazine.
